

Cao Bang Province Convention Center has absolute trust in Bosch Security Systems

- Bosch and Electro-Voice the chosen brand for installation at the largest convention center in Cao Bang
- High quality sound systems, conference systems and security
- Bosch products contributed significantly to the success of the center's events

Cao Bang Province Convention Center, a key project consisting of 3 floors with a total area of 8,809 m² was constructed in 2013, with Cao Bang Department of Construction as the main investor. The main events which are often held here requires high quality systems, devices and equipment as requested by the investor.

Every conference room in the center is equipped with Conference system CCS900. On the second floor, a multi-function room with 200 seats has DCNW Wireless Conference System installed which delivers crystal clear sound quality, without any mobile signal interference.

The key feature of the project is the huge 660 seats conference hall which is often used for provincial meetings. The hall uses the infrared Bosch interpreter system, which supports up to 4 different languages and allows for pre-installed channels which eases operations, especially for interpreters. The main sound system of the hall is a combination of TourX series speakers supported by speakers from the ZX and EVID line from Electro-Voice, the leading professional sound provider which guarantees high quality audio performance anywhere within the hall.

Besides top notch sound systems, the center also uses Bosch security systems such as the camera systems AN Bullet 4000 and the Autodome 5000 PTZ which surveillances every public area and entrance 24/7. Recorded images are stored in DIVAR IP 5000 Storage which allows for easy monitoring. Moreover, the project also installed PLENA VAS from Bosch, providing accurate vocal information address for evacuation in the event of emergency such as a fire at any place within the building.

With the professional consultation and installation from AIC Trading JSC – authorized distributor of Bosch in Vietnam – the whole suite of Bosch equipment at Cao Bang Convention Center has both expansion and integration capabilities for future upgrades. The Center is now in operation and products from Bosch have contributed significantly to the success of its events and conferences both locally and internationally.
